

RAFAEL CHARALAMBIDIS

Graduate Applied Computer Science

As a computer science, I am motivated by a strong desire to create novel solutions and bring ideas to life through code. I am eager to apply my knowledge and contribute to cutting-edge projects because I have a solid foundation in computer science and a strong skill set in various programming languages. My analytical skills, attention to detail, and collaborative mindset enable me to thrive in team environments and deliver high-quality software solutions.
